Steel Valley High School SADD Group Chapter of the Year!

Munhall, PA – Steel Valley High School’s SADD (Students Against Destructive Decisions) student group was named Pennsylvania’s SADD Chapter of the Year. Under the direction of Beth McCallister, the club is comprised of nearly 100 members who bring awareness to their peers about the importance of making good decisions and living positive, healthy lives.

“This year’s Steel Valley SADD officers and members have been AMAZING with all they’ve done, even in the midst of the COVID-19 Pandemic, and I am so proud of them!” said McCallister. “They’ve attended a number of virtual sessions, organized their own campaigns, managed the SteelValleySADD Instagram account, and have worked endlessly to promote the message of SADD which is to empower young people to successfully confront the risks and pressures that challenge them throughout their daily lives.”

The group also had their campaign, “Pet Pledge,” named Activity of the Year by Pennsylvania SADD. The project was organized by SV SADD Officers and brought awareness to driving safe and sober.

Steel Valley SADD Officers include President Sophia Thompson, Vice President Soraya Gibbs, Secretary Isabella Sabo, and Public Relations Representative Ben Novotny.
