

Thursday, November 17, 2022 is Children's Grief Awareness Day. The day is designed to help us all become more aware of the needs of grieving children — and of the benefits they obtain through the support of others. Children's Grief Awareness Day is an opportunity to make sure that grieving children receive the support they need.

The Highmark Caring Place is one organization that helps grieving children and their families.

The Tears Foundation is another organization that helps families who have lost children.

Steel Valley Student Council is holding a t-shirt fundraiser to benefit these 2 organizations and everyone is encouraged to wear their shirt on November 17.
